JOHN W. MANZELLA JOINS OXFORD BANK AS DIRECTOR OF WEALTH MANAGEMENT SERVICES

Oxford, Mich. (August 28, 2017) – Oxford Bank recently announced the appointment of John W. Manzella to Director of Wealth Management Services. Manzella will lead the Bank's wealth management division – Oxford Financial Solutions, which provides access to financial planning to individuals, businesses, and institutions on a consulting basis.

"We are very excited to have John join our team," said Nancy Rosentrater, Senior Vice President at Oxford Bank, who oversees the wealth management division. "John brings a lot of experience and knowledge; we fully expect a flourishing department under John's guidance."

With over 15 years' experience in the financial planning industry, Manzella most recently served as Founder and President of Ricchezza Total Retirement Solutions in Metamora, Mich., where he serviced and grew a well-diverse book of business which helped people plan for their retirement, and helped businesses grow and flourish.

"Joining the Oxford team has been a goal of mine for a long, long time. When I finally had the opportunity, I did not hesitate for a minute," commented Manzella. "I've lived and raised my family in Oxford for the last 24 years, and we are very active within the community, so this is the perfect opportunity for me."

Manzella's primary focus at Oxford Financial Solutions will be providing retirement solutions, and developing long-term relationships in the community and with clients located at the Bank.

Prior to joining the financial industry, John served in the United States Air Force including supporting the United Kingdom's Royal Air Force missions near London, England. While in the Air Force, John attended the University of Maryland studying advanced computer language programming. John holds the registrations Series 7, 66, 63, 6, and Michigan Life and Health Insurance licenses, and is a representative of Infinex Investments, Inc., Member FINRA/SIPC.

"I will always have a passion to serve others, so when I separated from the military, I could not seem to find an outlet to serve and protect others, until I found this profession," said Manzella. "My clients and I have been through two stock market crashes, and I successfully maintained the goals and objectives we planned. even in the toughest of times, we stayed committed to our financial goals and objectives, and ultimately succeeded."
